

Frequently Asked Questions About Our Services During Lockdown

When will we re-open our services?

As you may know, we are not able to provide on-road training until the lockdown restrictions are lifted (with exception to key workers who have their practical test booked). Our instructors are very eager to get back to training delivery whilst observing all precautionary measures. We believe that the end of July/August is when the training is most likely to resume. If it happens earlier, we will update our information on our social media and website accordingly.

When can I book driving lessons with Roadwise ?

Although at the moment we cannot provide driving lessons for non-critical workers, we encourage you to leave your contact details with our team. We created a waiting list for individuals who are looking to book driving lessons when the lockdown restrictions are lifted. You can leave your contact details by filling in this form and our instructor will get in touch with you when they can take bookings again. We will not share your information with any third party.

What areas do we cover?

We cover the following areas: Aberdeen, Aboyne, Alford, Banchory, Ellon, Forfar, Inverurie, Laurencekirk, Fraserburgh, Peterhead, Montrose and Stonehaven. Automatic tuition is available in Aberdeen, Stonehaven and 10 mile radius.

How much do we charge for driving lessons?

We have a number of driving lesson packages and intensive courses. All of them are listed in Roadwise shop.

Most popular options are as follows:

- Block booking of 5 hours @ £160 (manual or automatic)
- Block booking of 10 hours @ £310 (manual or automatic)
- Block booking of 20 hours / intensive @ £615 (manual or automatic)
